As the curtain lowers on our very special silver anniversary season, I applaud you for your unwavering support of the Kravis Center as it evolved from a dream to a downtown landmark. Because of a remarkable collaboration between cultural leaders, government officials and philanthropists, we have been able not only to provide world-class entertainment but also to propel Palm Beach County to being known as Florida’s Cultural Capital. Since it opened in 1992, the Kravis Center has presented more than 13,000 performances as part of a diverse, wide-ranging schedule that attracts both area residents and out-of-town guests. I am extremely pleased that the Center serves the community in so many ways, from welcoming more than 2.3 million students through our innovative arts education programs to boosting the local economy through increased travel and tourism. As we set the stage for the next 25 years and beyond, thank you for your role in helping us move forward as a premier performing arts center.

The spirit of celebration continues as we approach another magnificent milestone next season: the 10th anniversary of our acclaimed Kravis On Broadway series. Our series will feature Rodgers & Hammerstein’s The King and I, November 7-12; The Book of Mormon, November 21-26; Something Rotten!, May 1-6, 2018, and more! Coming in 2018-2019, the crowning touch of Broadway continues with Disney’s The Lion King. For the best ticket prices and seat selection for next season, we encourage you to become a series subscriber. Subscriptions for the 2017-2018 season are currently being offered to current subscribers, donors in May and the public in June. By becoming a donor and supporting our Annual Campaign, you will be among the first to buy a Kravis On Broadway subscription prior to the public sale. Also, if you subscribe for next season and renew in 2018-2019, you will secure your seats for The Lion King and other sought-after shows. For information, please see kravis.org/membership or call 561.651.4320.

For classical and chamber music enthusiasts, the 2017-2018 Regional Arts Concert Series MUSIC “At Eight” and MUSIC “At Two,” sponsored by Leonard and Sophie Davis, features eight distinguished orchestras, including the Israel Philharmonic and the Chicago Symphony. The venerable series also will present violinist Joshua Bell; organist Cameron Carpenter; and the stellar trio of Itzhak Perlman, Pinchas Zukerman and Rohan De Silva. Subscriptions will be offered to the public April 7 through our official website, kravis.org/regionalarts, or by calling the box office at 561.832.7469.

I am proud to share that in the past quarter-century, the Kravis Center has sold more 8 million tickets, and our dedicated volunteer ushers have been with us every step of the way, welcoming guests and helping them find their seats. Volunteers donate their time not only as ushers, but also leading tours, assisting in our gift shop and with administrative and other tasks. Our Board of Directors, Life Trustees, and members of our Standing Committees all volunteer their time and talent as well. National Volunteer Week is April 23-29, and an invitation-only Volunteer Salute, including an elegant dinner dance, will be held in the Cohen Pavilion on April 24. We give an enthusiastic standing ovation to this hard-working group and invite you to consider becoming a Kravis Center volunteer.

Our highly anticipated 2017-2018 season will be announced in early August, with donors receiving the first opportunity to order season tickets, so please stay in touch by visiting kravis.org. Thank you again for your support as we build on the progress of the past 25 years and plan for a fantastic future. See you next season!

This year marked the 25th Anniversary of the Kravis Center’s Gospel Gala with a dazzling performance featuring seven-time Grammy winner Kirk Franklin, Ascension 33 Dance Studio, The Ebony Chorale of the Palm Beaches and Palm Beach Lakes High School Voices of Unity. The brainchild of Mrs. Charlie Ellington, the first Chair of the Center’s Community Relations Committee and Robert Montgomery, one of the original Kravis Center Board members, this Community Outreach Event was created to bring people of the community together for an evening of remarkable gospel music. Since our first Gospel Gala in 1992, hundreds of harmonious voices from the community, churches and school choirs have come together with acclaimed gospel artists—including CeCe Winans, Tye Tribbett, Mary Mary, Shirley Caesar and more, to raise spirits, uplift and inspire all in attendance.

The Staff SALUTES our DEDICATED VOLUNTEERS during National Volunteer Week & ALWAYS!

Our remarkable volunteers give their tireless support to ensure that every aspect of the Kravis Center runs smoothly—and that each and every guest has an unforgettable experience. From our Board Members, Life Trustees and Standing Committee Members, to our ushers, hospitality crews and individuals who lead tours, and handle administrative tasks, we are forever grateful for their dedication.
The Kravis Center is in the second year of a three-year, $106,500 grant from the Community Foundation for Palm Beach and Martin Counties to expand Broadway Reach, a program designed to provide sequential arts education and exposure to live Broadway touring productions to 100 underserved children from neighborhood after-school programs. This year, students from Coleman Park Community Center, Egret Lake Elementary School, Faith’s Place, Lantana Elementary School, The Conservatory School @ North Palm Beach and U.B. Kinsey/Palmview Elementary School are enrolled in Broadway Reach.

For the 2016-2017 season, students in the program had the opportunity to experience one of three diverse Kravis On Broadway presentations: An American In Paris, The Phantom of the Opera or The Sound of Music.

In selecting the Kravis Center for its grant, the Community Foundation noted that Broadway Reach not only offers students the opportunity to experience the professional world of a Broadway production, it also presents ideas for future career goals beyond their immediate community.

The 100 students experience a series of intensive, interactive arts education sessions leading up to attending a live performance of the production. Students explore the themes of the production under the instruction of professional teaching artists from the community. This year’s focus is on ballet technique, mask-making, and vocal music, while the students also study the historical and social contexts of the three productions.

The students also perform or exhibit their work and invite a parent, grandparent or guardian to join them for the Kravis Center performance, where they enjoy lunch and take part in a special meet-and-greet with the cast.

Four fascinating individuals were featured in the Kravis Center’s 2016-2017 ArtSmart Lunch & Learn Series. Lee Wolf and Steven Caras again co-chaired the series this season in association with the Kravis Center Cultural Society.

The first program of the illuminating series, Sexual Healing: An Intimate Conversation with Dr. Ruth Westheimer, was sponsored by Susan Bloom.

In the engaging in-person interview, Steven Caras posed colorful questions covering everything anyone needs to know about sex, and equally, if not more stimulating, details of a life journey that continues for this ageless international treasure.

The second sold-out Lunch & Learn event entitled Judy Garland: You Made Me Love You, was moderated by Lee Wolf and Steven Caras and sponsored by Leona F. Chanin. Attendees listened to the tragic story of Garland’s life, whose birth name was Frances Ethel Gumm.

“Garland won the hearts of millions, yet sadly, never her own,” stated Wolf. “Garland’s physical appearance created a dilemma for MGM studio chief Louis B. Mayer, who referred to her as ‘my little hunchback.’ This start was challenging enough before adding five husbands, drug and alcohol addiction and serious money problems to the mix.”

The third sold-out Lunch & Learn event, sponsored by Beverly Sommer, was entitled The Unassuming Brilliance of Audrey Hepburn: A Presentation by Pamela Fiori. Former editor in chief of Town & Country and six-time published author, Fiori created multiple features on Hepburn, praising a woman who, in Fiori’s words, “preferred marriage, motherhood and comforting children with AIDS, to fame and fortune.”

Fiori gave a compelling presentation, followed by an enlightening closing interview with Steven Caras. Fiori reignited Hepburn’s luminosity through images, film and stories.

The final sold-out luncheon of the series, A Conversation with Leonard Lauder, was sponsored by Leona F. Chanin. Lee Wolf interviewed Lauder, chairman emeritus of The Estée Lauder Companies Inc. and the senior member of its board of directors. Attendees were treated to a behind-the-scenes discussion of the business of beauty with one of the industry’s most powerful leaders and visionaries.

The series of four continuing arts education events included a lunch prepared by Catering by The Breakers at the Kravis Center. Lunch & Learn lectures are held in the Kravis Center’s Cohen Pavilion.

The Eighth Annual Alan Lebow Award for Excellence in Shakespearean Performance was presented on January 28 in the Kravis Center’s Khoury Family Dance Rehearsal Hall to 11 Palm Beach County students from four local high schools who were joined by their family, friends and teachers. Sponsored by Kids’ Dreams, Inc., in memory of its co-founder, Alan Lebow, the award honors students from Title I high schools who perform short selections from William Shakespeare’s works before a panel of distinguished judges. This year saw two Top Winners, each earning a $1,000 cash prize: Kathie Torres, a junior at Royal Palm Beach Community High School and Ryan Gosling, a senior at Royal Palm Beach Community High School. Torres, who received an Honorable Mention in the 2016 competition, performed a monologue from The Winter’s Tale. Gosling, the 2016 Top Winner, performed a monologue from Romeo and Juliet. The Education Committee of the Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts, a Standing Committee of the Kravis Center’s Board of Directors, hosted three lectures this season featuring guest speakers with insight to the value of arts in education.

The Kravis Center’s arts education department oversees 20 programs for students of all ages, and since opening in 1992, more than 2.3 million students have experienced a theater, music or dance performance at the Kravis Center.

In November, the Education Committee, chaired by Dr. Barbara Golden, gathered in the Kravis Center’s Shapiro Founders’ Room to hear Dr. Robert Avossa, superintendent of the School District of Palm Beach County. Avossa, who was the inaugural guest for the new speaker series in 2015, shared his updated goals for the school district and his vision leading into 2017 and beyond.

In January, the Committee hosted guest speaker Dr. Mary Palmer, an Orlando-based educational and arts consultant who specializes in working with schools, community artists, arts organizations, students, and parents to help integrate arts education into school programs. She shared research that showed the correlation between arts education and higher academic achievement in schools.

In February, the series concluded with an appearance by Robert Morgan, actor in the S*T*A*R (Students and Teachers Arts Resource) Series presentation of Morgan’s Journey, who hosted a post-performance conversation with the Committee members. An inventive journey of self-discovery, Morgan’s Journey explores themes of love and the true meaning of friendship and happiness.

A night of exciting entertainment took place at the Kravis Center on February 18, when a multi-talented group of 20 young artists from Palm Beach and Martin counties took over Helen K. Persson Hall in a cohesive evening of dance, music and theater.

The performance provided students the opportunity to work with professional stage directors through Stage Awakenings, an education program designed to allow high school and college students the chance to present their work on a Kravis Center stage. Stage Director Gail Garrisan and Music Director Paul Reekie auditioned students for the performance in January. The 20 students selected for this year’s Stage Awakenings represented eight different high schools from throughout the region.

“Each person brings their uniqueness to the table of life,” said Garrisan. “This isn’t just a cliché. It’s a truth and I feel it’s important to both honor and nurture that in our young people. To do so early in their lives opens windows to their talents and doors to their spirits. Stage Awakenings offers a platform for a group of strangers to become an ensemble, if only for a few weeks. These young performers meet, share, see and respect the individuality of one another.”

With vocals ranging from opera to hip-hop, there was something in the performance for every guest. The entire ensemble of students started the show with a bang by performing their version of “You Can’t Stop the Beat” from Hairspray. Jessica Thurber from Olympic Heights High School and Ryan Gosling from Royal Palm Beach High School emceed the evening.

“Being an aspiring musical theater actor, having the Kravis Center in my backyard affords me all sorts of opportunities other kids my age may not have,” said Skyler Sajewski, a junior at the Dreyfoos School of the Arts in West Palm Beach who performed ‘Vanilla Ice Cream’ from She Loves Me. “The Kravis Center education department provides so many wonderful opportunities to learn and grow through their summer programs and year-round master classes. Performing on a real stage with professionals allows me to be better prepared as I move forward toward reaching my dreams and goals. I am so grateful to be a part of their programs.”

This February, the African-American Film Festival celebrated its 12th year by highlighting African-American musical legends in film.

The festival opened on February 13 with 1958’s star-studded St. Louis Blues, a film featuring Billy Preston, Nat King Cole, Eartha Kitt and Ella Fitzgerald telling the story of young Will Handy, a talented songwriter destined for blues greatness.

The festival continued on February 20 with a screening of Carmen Jones (1954) starring Dorothy Dandridge as the title character, a civilian parachute maker with an eye for Joe (Harry Belafonte), a pilot-in-training headed for the Korean War. The film includes songs from the French composer Georges Bizet’s final opera, Carmen, with modernized lyrics.

On February 27, the festival showed A Great Day in Harlem, the 1994 Academy Award-nominated documentary about the unprecedented summer day in 1958 when photographer Art Kane assembled in Harlem a remarkable array of leading jazz musicians for a group picture, including Dizzy Gillespie, Sonny Rollins and Art Blakey. The evening opened with Avery Sommers performing three musical numbers accompanied by Phil Hinton.

Prior to each screening, host AnEta Sewell presented a 20-minute talk and following each film she led a lively question-and-answer session. Following A Great Day in Harlem, Ms. Sewell was joined by actress and singer Ms. Avery Sommers and pianist Phil Hinton for a brief talk.

The African-American Film Festival, founded by James Drayton, has presented 36 films beginning with Stormy Weather, Within These Gates and Sankofa in 2005. Each year, the festival has a different theme. This year’s theme sought to honor African-American music greats as seen in film.

The festival is presented as part of the Kravis Center’s ArtSmart Continuing Arts Education series, which offers a full range of educational presentations that provide new perspectives on the world of the performing arts and enrich life experiences. Community support for the festival is provided by Omega Psi Phi Fraternity.
Monique Lhuillier’s floral-inspired patterns and elegant style and Neiman Marcus Palm Beach’s iconic butterflies made for a festive spring-themed backdrop for the Kravis Center’s Gala kickoff on Wednesday, January 18th. The private reception was held in honor of Gala Chairs, committee members, sponsors and supporters, and was highlighted with a special formal runway presentation. The Kravis Center’s 25th Anniversary Season Gala “Night of Stars” was held on Saturday, February 11.

“Our sincerest thanks to Beth Pine, Vice President and General Manager of Neiman Marcus Palm Beach, for being our exclusive fashion sponsor and for allowing our supporters to be the first charity partner to see Monique Lhuillier’s Spring 2017 collection,” said Kravis Center Chief Executive Officer Judith Mitchell while welcoming guests. “Tonight is a celebration of our Gala supporters, and I would like to give special thanks to our leadership – Gala Chairs Monika Preston and Kathryn Vecellio, and Honorary Chairs Alex Dreyfoos, Bill Meyer and Jane Mitchell, our past Board Chairs. Thank you to the Gala Committee and our sponsors for all of your efforts to ensure that the 2017 Gala will be a wonderful success. In addition, I want to thank our current Board Chairman Michael Bracci, for his leadership and support.”

She then introduced Beth Pine who personally welcomed Kravis supporters and then presented the spectacular runway show. Guests were treated to cocktails, hors d’oeuvres and a fragrant Monique Lhuillier candle as a memento of the evening.
The Palm Beach Wine Auction celebrated a decade of supporting children’s arts education at the Kravis Center by welcoming over 260 guests to The Mar-a-Lago Club in Palm Beach on January 12th. Attendees were treated to five decadent courses, each course served with a special vintage of fine wine.

A Baccarat black crystal decanter of Louis XIII Rare Cask 42,6 cognac – the 737th of only 738 such decanters created for Rémy Martin was purchased for $40,000, making it the highest single bottle wine bid ever placed at the Auction.

“I am honored you all could be here this evening to celebrate this important milestone in the story of the Palm Beach Wine Auction,” said Auction Founder and Chairman Ted Mandes. “The best part of this evening is knowing you are building on a legacy that allows children in our community to experience the joy of the performing arts.”

The Kravis Center rolled out the red-carpet for its 25th anniversary with an all-star lineup for its Gala “Night of Stars.” On Saturday, February 11, all theater guests were treated to a champagne greeting and an over-the-top collaborative performance in Dreyfoos Hall. Some 500 Gala guests attended a pre-show cocktail reception and a spectacular post-performance dinner dance in the Gimelstob Ballroom, located in the Cohen Pavilion. The annual benefit was chaired by long-time Kravis Center supporters Monika Preston and Kathryn Vecellio.

Master showman Michael Feinstein hosted the star-studded sold-out performance. The show opened with a surprise tap ensemble by Nouveau Productions followed by the fast-moving fingers of organist Cameron Carpenter. The crowd tapped their feet and clapped their hands to the vocal talents of legendary artists Alan Cumming, Darren Criss, Denyce Graves, Neil Sedaka and Storm Large. Movement artists Lil Buck and Jon Boogz defied gravity with their dance performance, while costumes from famous movies of the past graced the stage in Greg Schreiner’s Hollywood Revisited. Emmy-nominated director Robert Pullen directed the show. 25th anniversary gala
Diane Bergner, Kravis Center Senior Director of Development, was selected as the Outstanding Fundraising Professional by the Association of Fundraising Professional’s (AFP) Palm Beach County Chapter. She was honored at the National Philanthropy Day annual luncheon, hosted by AFP. Kravis Center CEO Judith Mitchell nominated Diane for this prestigious award.

During Diane’s 17 year tenure at the Kravis Center she created, implemented and continues to oversee an extraordinary fundraising operation that garners generous donations, orchestrates success for volunteers and staff, and inspires others to both contribute and serve.

At the event, Diane thanked the Kravis Center team for their collaborative efforts in meeting the Center’s goals. “It is a joy to work with the powerhouse team at the Kravis Center. I thank our hard working and inspirational Board of Directors and Life Trustees, our loyal donors, the Kravis Center staff, and the exceptional Development Department that always goes the extra mile. Together, you are all a mighty force that enables the Kravis Center to fulfill its mission each year.”

Diane has played an extremely active leadership role in the philanthropic community, inspiring and perpetuating the philanthropic message, as well as creating a culture of philanthropy at the Kravis Center.

The Development Committee is a Standing Committee of the Kravis Center Board of Directors, and is responsible for ensuring that all of the fundraising goals of the Center are met. Under the leadership of Laurie Silvers, Development Committee Chair and Vice Chair of the Board, the Center is well on its way to meeting the 2016-2017 Annual Campaign goal of $5.8 million. The Committee is also actively engaged in building the Permanently Restricted Endowment Fund which is currently valued at approximately $20 million. We commend Ms. Silvers and her Committee for their outstanding dedication, enthusiasm and service to the Kravis Center.
Jeffrey C. Walker, philanthropist and former CEO and Co-Founder of JPMorgan Partners, received an impressive round of applause on his platform for creating social change when the Kravis Center Corporate Partners held its second Business and Breakfast Series of the season in the Rinker Playhouse on February 15th.

Corporate Partners Executive Committee Chair Eileen Berman, Managing Director of UBS Private Wealth Management, welcomed members and guests before turning the microphone over to Mr. Walker.

As Chairman of New Profit, a social change investment fund, and Vice Chairman of the United Nations Envoy’s Office for Health Finance and Malaria, Mr. Walker is considered an expert on creating new approaches to gathering resources that address causes each of us are passionate about. He has created his second career by pulling people with unique talents together to establish system changes, such as eliminating malaria and bringing music back to education.

Co-author of The Generosity Network, Jeffrey Walker has received the John C. Whitehead Award for Social Enterprise from the Harvard Business School Club of New York City. For 25 years, Mr. Walker was CEO and Co-Founder of CCMP Capital, the $12 billion successor to JPMorgan Partners, JPMorgan Chase & Co’s global private equity, Vice Chairman of JPMorgan Chase & Co. and Chairman of the JPMorgan Chase Foundation.

Kravis Center Corporate Partners members are the corporate and professional leadership in Palm Beach County whose mission is to support and enable the Kravis Center to continue its extensive education and community outreach programs. Corporate Partners membership offers business leaders the opportunity to act as an integral part of the Kravis Center, building awareness of the Center within the business community. The breakfast series is one of many benefits for this support level.

For more information about the Corporate Partners program, please contact Julie Hetherington, Sponsorship and Corporate Partners Officer at 561.651.4201.
Join the esteemed list of discerning donors who give the gift to perpetuate artistic excellence. It's a wonderful feeling to know your support will ensure the Kravis Center remains a shining jewel within our community for generations to come, and guarantee that we can continue to impact and enrich the lives of future audiences.

When you give or pledge a meaningful legacy gift (current or deferred), we are honored to recognize you as a member of the Helen K. Persson Society (or respect your wishes to remain anonymous).

For information about the Helen K. Persson Society, contact Margaret May Damen, CFP®, CLU®, ChFC®, CAP® Endowment and Planned Giving Officer at 561.651.4230 or damen@kravis.org or visit kravis.org/endowment.

It is not often that a second generation gets the opportunity not only to experience, but also to carry on the legacy of one’s parents. In 1999, my parents, Helen and Merrill Bank said, “We have been involved with the Kravis Center since its inception and will continue to support its worthwhile programs. The Center provides so many enriching services to the community with educational opportunities, senior citizen programs and community outreach initiatives that we want to help secure for future generations.”

Their dedication, enthusiasm and support for the mission of the Kravis Center has now transferred to the next generation, and I am honored to continue their tradition, through support of S*T*A*R (Students & Teachers Arts Resource) Series education programs my mother believed were so important in order to connect the lives of young students to the performing arts.

I feel a sense of responsibility to ensure the cultural life my parents enjoyed, and that I enjoy today, will continue through current gifts to the annual campaign and by deferred gifts to the endowment fund. There are so many people who helped to build the Kravis Center, and now it is our turn to preserve and sustain the Kravis Center mission for the future.”

~Penny Bank, Daughter of Merrill and Helen Bank

Lewis M. Schott

The Kravis Center lost a dear friend with the passing of Lewis Schott on January 12. The date is significant because that evening celebrated the 10th annual Palm Beach Wine Auction. Mr. Schott was strongly instrumental in the founding of this important fundraiser, which continues to support the Center’s effort to make the performing arts a vital part of the education of young people throughout the region.

Mr. Schott combined his love of the University of Florida’s Gators with his philanthropy. He was generous with his gifts of Gators memorabilia to the Kravis Center for various fundraisers.

In addition to his longtime support of the Kravis Center, he gave of his time and his experience. As a Board member from 1995 through 2007, and then as a Life Trustee until his passing, he used his business experience to help guide policies to ensure the Center’s continued position as a leader in our cultural community. As Co-Chair of the Development Committee, he helped to ensure the stability and financial health of the Center. As a member of the Employee Relations Committee, Mr. Schott helped to institute the policies that have maintained such low turnover among the Center’s staff.

Mr. Schott’s impact on the Kravis Center and on the community was enormous and he will be deeply missed.
The Raymond F. Kravis Center for the Performing Arts is grateful to those donors who have expressed their commitment to the Kravis Center’s Endowment Fund which helps sustain our artistic and educational excellence for future artists, audiences, and students. Donors who have made a current gift or informed us of a gift intention to the Kravis Center’s Endowment are acknowledged as members of the Helen K. Persson Society and their generosity is recognized with invitations to Persson Society events, acknowledgement in Kravis Center publications and other benefits based on level of commitment. If you would like more information about the Helen K. Persson Endowment Society, please call Margaret May Damen, CFP®, CLU®, ChFC®, CAP®, Planned Giving and Endowment Officer at 561.651.4230.

Please consider making a gift or informing us of your gift intention to the Kravis Center’s Endowment. For more information about the Helen K. Persson Society and the generosity of the donors included below, please call Margaret May Damen, CFP®, CLU®, ChFC®, CAP®, Planned Giving and Endowment Officer at 561.651.4230.
